A Letter From Our Executive Director

Over twenty years ago I finished a degree in Human Services and wondered if God could use me somewhere in the city I lived. I came across a friend I had not seen in some time who told me I should volunteer at the local Pregnancy Resource Center. Volunteer training was just beginning and this was a good time to step in and see if it was a fit for me.

Well, as I said, that was over twenty years ago and here I am still involved in a Pregnancy Resource Center. Over the years I have, as the spiritual opposition seemed overwhelming at times, questioned my place and wondered if I should continue. The opportunity to help men and women in difficult or unplanned pregnancies always spoke louder than my doubts.

I remember a time when a woman came in to a center I was working at and stated she had to have an abortion. I talked with her and learned her pregnancies were difficult and she was frightened. She decided to have an ultrasound and found she was 10 weeks along. Her ultrasound pictures were perfect and her baby actually waved at her. After educating her on abortion procedures she came to the decision, with many tears, to carry this baby. We were so overjoyed.

We prayed with her many times during that pregnancy and I remember the day she came back and held up this precious baby and said the baby was the blessing of her life and she couldn't imagine being without it. God had answered every one of our prayers and her delivery was perfect and problem free.

I can't tell you how many times I have watched mom's hold up their babies and say I'm so thankful I came in and talked to you and decided to keep my baby. These are the reasons why I am still in this ministry. I have said that it gets in to your blood and I think if you ask advocates at Azar House PRC they might say the same thing. No matter where you go all over this country there is probably a Pregnancy Resource Center close by and it draws you.

I was visiting my son and his family in Ohio and found there was a Pregnancy Resource Center in their city so I went to visit. I found caring, loving and giving ladies ready to tell of their experiences in serving men and women just like here at home. They were eager to pray with you and for our Center. I think our hearts are knit by not only the Lord Jesus but also in our desire to see those who feel abortion is their only option given new insight. That these, given encouragement and hope and information, can see there are positive options waiting for them. Not only that, but someone to come along side of them and let them know they are not alone.

This month as you pray for Azar House PRC, pray for those coming in who need our services but also remember each Advocate who sits along side these women and shares hope, healing and the love of Jesus.

God Bless you!
